Kroesing Committed for Trial

Defence Reserved by His Lawyer—Will Come Before Macleod Assizes Later

George Kroesing, 19 years was committed by Police Magistrate Gresham to await trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction, to be held at Macleod.

He was charged under Section 446 of the Criminal Code with attempted robbery whilst armed, of Coleman Co-Operative Store on March 21, at about 8 p. m., when with two others he entered the store, and demanded Andy Oliva, manager, to "stick 'em up" whilst he was counting up the day's receipts, considerably over $1,000.

Oliva, instead of complying with the demand, grabbed Kroesing, knocked him on the head, secured the gun, and with Joe Kapala, store clerk, turned on the other two bandits and put them to flight, after capturing another revolver.

Kroesing was brought into court under guard, handcuffed, and stands about 6 feet tall. He listened to the evidence without remarks, and his solicitor, F. O. McKenna, of Pincher Creek, reserved his defence.

Witnesses called for the prosecution were A. Oliva, J. Kapala and O. Diamond, store clerks, and Constable Foster, R.C.M.P.; and Constable Antle, town constable. The prosecution was conducted by Sergeant Cawsey, R. C. M. P.

A .38 calibre Colt revolver, and a Belgian .36 revolver, and shells belonging to each, were identified by Mr. Oliva as having been taken by him at the hold-up, also the red handkerchief which marked the lower part of Kroesing's face. He positively identified the accused, Kapala and Diamond also swore as to his identity.

Dr. K. McLean gave evidence of treating Kroesing for three wounds following the hold-up, when he was called by the Very few questions were asked by the lawyer for the defence, and following the evidence of Crown witnesses, the magistrate committed accused for trial.

His parents and a sister were in court. Many were unable to gain admittance. Kroesing was removed to Lethbridge jail, where he will await trial.

Death of Gar Tom

Chinese Resident of Crows Nest Pass For Over 30 Years. Succumbed to Heart Attack

Employed as cook's helper in the Grand Union hotel, Gar Tom, 69 years, was taken ill while at work on Thursday, April 9, and removed to the home of Mr. Goody at the B. C. Cafe, where he lived. Drs. Blair and McLean did all they could for him, but he passed away in less than 24 hours. He was well known throughout the Pass, and came from Hoi Ping district in the province of Canton in 1899. He leaves a wife in China and one son.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, Chinese friends from Coleman, Blairmore and Hillcrest attending, who bore the expenses of the funeral. Burial took place in the Union cemetery, Coleman.

Deceased was of quiet and friendly disposition, and his sudden passing aroused feelings of regret and sympathy among all who knew him.

Coleman Hotel, in keeping with the spring cleaning season, has undergone a thorough interior repainting, adding to the brightness and cheerfulness of the place. This is the pioneer hotel in the town, having been built when the town was first opened up in 1903, and it has always been a popular stopping place and at one time was the gathering place for commercial travellers over the week-ends.

John Brennan, night operator at the C. P. R., for several years, has been transferred to Alderdyce, near Calgary, and Mrs. Brennan and children will follow as soon as suitable living quarters have been secured. John was one of the keenest hockey fans in town, and was always red-hot on the wire to dispatch the news following the games. Bernard Blanchard, formerly of Macleod, has been appointed in his place here.

Coleman Boy Reaches London

Out to Tour the World, Including Ascent of Mount Everest if He Has Chance

Some boys are ambitious to do the unusual. Like "the lad who bore mid snow and ice, the banner with the strange device," Steve Janostak, 22-year-old Coleman boy, started out in a tour of adventure. Last year he travelled as far south as Mexico, across the continent to California, which he liked much better than Mexico. Five weeks ago he again launched forth on a tour to Europe. On Sunday his parents received a telegram stating he was in London, and planning to go across to Paris. If he gets a chance to climb Mount Everest, he will not be at all abashed.

He will be remembered locally as the boy who some years ago climbed the 9,200-foot mountain, Crows Nest, and planted a large sheet on a heavy flagpole which he dragged unaided to the top. The first intimation townspeople had of his feat was in seeing the white flag floating in the wind, and so well was it planted that it withstood the buffeting for several days.

Just how Steve finances his himself knows. His father sends him a remittance at intervals, and Steve does the rest himself. No particulars having arrived by letter as to how he worked his way to England it is surmised he must have taken a job as a messenger to a cargo of cattle going across. He is of very strong physique, and thought nothing of hoisting a hundred pound sack of flour or potatoes on his shoulder and riding on a bicycle to deliver it.

Meeting Of Tennis Club

Police Matters

Under Consideration

ON Thursday afternoon, Supt. Bruce, R.C.M.P., of Lethbridge, and Staff Sergeant Cawsey, of Blairmore, met the Mayor and the police committee of the council. A complete report of the conference will be given next week, being too late for this issue.

PALACE THEATRE PRESENTING WILL ROGERS' LAST PICTURE

America's favorite drama and America's favorite actor meet in the Fox picturization of "In Old Kentucky" at the Palace theatre on Saturday and Monday.

The story of the great star's last and greatest picture is that of the memorable and beloved Charles T. Dacey play of the same name. But under the able hands of scenarists Sam Hellman and Gladys Lehman, it has been brought up-to-date and crammed with additional laughs. "In Old Kentucky" tells the rollicking story of a group of people who love horses and dislike each other, a story that revolves about the shrewd and philosophical Rogers.

There's no gamble on the entertainment in Will Rogers' grand picture of horse racing coming to the Palace theatre. It is "In Old Kentucky," adapted from the play which has thrilled and delighted thirty million Americans. The last of the series of Major Bowes' amateur hour will be shown at the Palace theatre Saturday and Monday.

The midnight preview of "Top Hat" at the Palace theatre on Sunday midnight was attended by a capacity house, many from other towns attending.

If it is advertised in The Journal it must be O.K.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE ASSOCIATION EXAMS.

On April 29 Colonel A. E. Snell, acting director-general of the St. John Ambulance Association, Ottawa, will be in Coleman to examine the McGillivray Co. First Aid team. They will enter in the competitions for the provincial championship and the Coderre Cup, International Co. will not enter a team this year, though in past years they have won high marks.

Lieut.-Colonel R. F. Barnes was a visitor to Winnipeg for several days, and attended the final hockey match between Sudbury Falcons and Kimberley Dynamiters for the Allan Cup championship. Poor attendance marked both games, about 2,000 attending each.

Bellevue Also Celebrates

Various members contributed to the program, the concert lasting from 8.15 p. m. to 11 p. m. Songs, dances and recitations by members furnished a program of wide and entertaining variety. "A good time was had by all."

Canadian Legion Celebrates Vimy Anniversary

Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion, assisted by the Ladies Auxiliary of the branch, held a banquet and dance in the Oddfellows hall on Thursday evening, to celebrate the 19th anniversary of the memorable battle of Vimy Ridge, in which the Canadian Corps took a leading part.

The president, J. L. Lonsbury, was chairman, and his remarks dealt with the record of the Legion, and its aims in behalf of disabled ex-service men. He also stated it was the intention of the local branch to re-establish a club as soon as funds would permit, for which a carnival is to be held on May 30 and June 2.

The toast to "The Visitors" was proposed by H. T. Halliwell, and responded to by G. Kellock. E. W. Beart proposed the toast to "The Ladies," which was responded to by Mrs. Walter Williams, past president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The tables were tastefully decorated with flowers, and streamers festooned across the room added to the gaiety of the occasion.

Songs were sung by Eileen Richards, Mamie McLellan, Mrs. W. Martland and Mrs. Williams. Pipe Major Moore played bagpipe selections and his daughter Roberta gave two dances. Mrs. William Hopkins played the pianoforte accompaniments.

Following the banquet and program, two hours dancing to the fine music of the Aradania orchestra was enjoyed, the party coming to a close at midnight.

The Century Of Science

Research work now being carried on in the laboratories of the world devoted to industrial progress and advancement of scientific knowledge is so vast that their practical application to man's needs and welfare is bound to profoundly change habits and modes of life and work in the future.

Old and well accepted theories in the realms of astronomy, chemistry, physics, medical science, biology and other fields of science are being shattered almost daily as a result of the work which is being carried on by silent, bespectacled men and women in these research workshops and so rapidly are new discoveries being made and converted to the use of mankind that those who predict that the present century will go down in history as an era of scientific achievement are speaking with undisputed authority.

In fact, the achievements of the first third of the present century are sufficient in themselves to substantiate the claim for such an assertion even if, for some unknown and unpredictable reason, the work in this field were to be brought to an abrupt halt now.

One does not have to search far to find reasons for this remarkable advance into the sphere of the hitherto unknown and to explain why so much that has remained hidden for centuries is now being revealed in so great abundance.

One of the reasons is the large sums of money which have been made available for the prosecution of such work by wealthy philanthropists. Another is the discovery by commercial organizations that it pays them to devote a percentage of their earnings to the conduct of research work to assist them in unearthing ways and means of improving their products and of reducing the costs of production to enable them to achieve a paramount place in their field or to achieve it. Another is the now well known fact that almost every new discovery, or the search for it, opens the door for another one and often enough paves the way for several more. Thus, the work is not only progressive but cumulative and in more than mathematical ratio, something like rolling up a snowball.

Still another reason is the fact that so frequently, a discovery in one field of endeavor results in the perfection of new equipment which makes it possible to delve deeper into the mysteries of some other scientific realm or some other school of activity.

And these do not exhaust the reasons. There are others referred to recently by Mrs. O. Lazarus, writing in a recent issue of the Christian Science Monitor an article dealing with developments in the arena of natural science this author said:

"Natural science arose partly out of man's desire to conquer nature and partly from his insatiable curiosity. From the earliest times man had never been content to live by bread alone. It had that within it which compelled it to seek out the mysteries of the world around it. It is this curiosity which has forced men to make, inch by inch, what has enabled him to sweep the recesses of the starry heavens; to delve among the rocks in order to read from them the history of the earth and those who have lived on it in ages past. In his eagerness he has even penetrated into the heart of matter and seen it dissolve into radiation."

The same writer sheds an interesting sidelight on the effect such work has on the mind of those who make new discoveries, when she says: "Every time he (the research worker) has forced open the locked doors in the Palace of Knowledge, he has become humbler, less certain of his at-one-time unshakable faith in the 'reality' of those things which his hands could touch and his eyes see."

It is unfortunate that in Canada sufficient recompense is not always given to the men and women who are devoting a lifetime to unlocking the mysteries of science for the benefit of the country and her people; at least, that in too often the case with those who are prosecuting their work under government agency. As a result, more adequate remuneration sometimes proves too tempting and they are lured away south of the international boundary to the great loss of this country.

When the benefits which accrue to the country as a result of the development of a rust resistant wheat—to quote an illustration—are weighed in the balance against the remuneration these trained experts receive it is not surprising if better offers from elsewhere for their services are sometimes accepted.

CONSTIPATION STOPPED AT ONCE!

"Constipation troubled me for months. Nothing seemed to do any good until I tried Fruit-a-tives. They brought quick and complete relief," says Mr. Huddleston, Belleville, Ont.

Fruit-a-tives are the discovery of a famous Canadian physician. He concentrated extracts of APPLES, ORANGES, FIGS, PRUNES and HERBS. The result is a natural remedy scientifically prepared for best results. Convenient—in easy-to-swallow tablet. Safe—do not contain harsh purgatives or habit-forming drugs. More than a laxative—Fruit-a-tives bring lasting relief. They tend to strengthen all organs of elimination. Their tonic effects help the entire system.

Enjoys Life At Goldfields

Well-Worth Trying Says Wife Of Resident Doctor

Completing her first season in one of the north's new mining camps, Mrs. E. N. Dunn, a bride of one year, says there is nothing like joy-riding in a dog sleigh.

The young woman, wife of Dr. E. N. Dunn, resident doctor at Goldfields, Sask., accompanied her husband to the Lake Athabasca mining field last fall.

During a brief stopover at Edmonton after a long aeroplane flight from the northern mining town, she said, "I enjoy the life very much. It's all very novel, and it's well worth trying."

Goldfields has a pleasant social life, she added. About 30 women and 300 men comprise the camp. Bridge, dancing and dog sleigh riding are in great favor. In addition she often travels with her husband.

Going In For Ice Cream

London Is Preparing For Big Sale This Summer

Warm weather ice cream fashions are being determined at the Ice Cream and Dairy exhibition at the Crystal Palace, the London News-Chronicle remarks:

"This summer, it seems, we shall consume at least 50,000,000 gallons of ice cream, so that the rehearsal now in progress is thoroughly justified."

"It will be bought from penny-in-the-slot machines, in special paper bags, in tubes of chocolate and in new waffle wafers, which make it look as if you get more for your penny than you actually do."

"And it will be better ice cream. The milk marketing board has arranged for ice cream manufacturers to buy milk at bulk wholesale prices. Milk powder from abroad has been widely used so far."

"The immense engineering industry that has grown in recent years to meet the needs of the big milk distributive combines should give those now engaged in the milk prices inquiry some idea of where the money goes."

Richly Clad Mummy Found

Is Believed To Be Daughter Of Great Pharaoh Cheops

The sumptuously clad mummy of a princess of the Fourth Dynasty (3733-3566 B.C.), believed to be the daughter of the great Pharaoh Cheops, who built the second Pyramid, has been discovered by Egyptian archaeologists.

The mummy lay in a limestone sarcophagus, in an undisturbed tomb whose location was not revealed in the announcement of the find. Dressed in bridal raiment, the princess wore a golden diadem, two necklaces of golden beads, anklets and sandals.

A gold-plated copper belt circled her waist and the fingers of her left hand were encased in gold as well, it was said.

Prof. Selim Hassan of Cairo University, directed the excavations which resulted in the discovery. He said the tomb apparently had never been pillaged by marauders, like most monuments of ancient Egypt.

Wells Discovered America

Landed 300 Years Before Columbus Made His Appearance

The legend of the white Indian, and the claim that America was discovered by a Welshman, were revived at Cardiff, Wales, recently during a Welsh book festival, when books relating to the part played by Wales in world history were exhibited.

Legend has it that the American continent was discovered by Prince Madoc in the twelfth century, 300 years before Columbus. Madoc set sail from North Wales across the Atlantic with a fleet of 13 ships and never returned.

It is declared that he landed near the mouth of the Mississippi and worked his way inland. His men made friends with the Indians, and ultimately formed themselves into a tribe of white Indians.

Bishop Of The Arctic Talked To Charges In The North

A bishop's voice rang through the air for thousands of miles on a recent Saturday to carry a greeting in Eskimo to stant-eyed friends who sat before radio sets from the sub-Arctic fringe to Oache Peninsula. Rt. Rev. A. L. Fleming, Bishop of the Arctic, whose Diocese extends across the great expanse of winter's twilight land, spoke in English and Eskimo to his friends and church in the north, broadcasting from Ottawa on the Canadian Radio Commission's Northern Mission program.

Likes Exploring Job

Ellsworth Hopes To Do More Of It

In Antares, Lincoln Ellsworth, who recently completed an air journey across the Antarctic continent, said he would like to explore the Australian desert by camel. He had no definite plans, however, for the venture.

Ellsworth said in an interview there was a 100-year job of exploring still to be done in the Antarctic and he expected to do some of it. The explorer landed in Los Angeles in March after an absence of almost a year.

Do You Ever Wonder

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Ask Your Doctor and Find Out

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headache is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this:

New Electric Trains

One Of Longest Electric Tracks Will Be Completed Next Summer

Rapid progress with the electrification of the Southern Railway's main line to Portsmouth harbor makes it likely that the whole scheme, costing nearly $15,000,000, will be completed by July, 1937.

Some 95 route miles, corresponding to 232 single track miles, are to be converted, and when finished the 74 miles from London to Portsmouth will be one of the longest electric tracks in Britain.

The present limited stretch is from London to Eastbourne, Hastings and Ore section opened last July.

Forty-eight new four-coach motor units, 19 of which will be provided with kitchen-cars, are among the new rolling stock being constructed.

Tourists Will See Things

Perry Sound, Ontario, To Have Totem Pole Traffic Light

The eyes of a moose, alternately blinking red and green from atop a mighty totem pole, will help direct tourist traffic through Perry Sound, Ontario, this year. Plans for the totem pole traffic light were explained to the Ontario Good Roads convention by J. M. Daly, Indian agent from Perry Sound. The pole will be a vast affair, facing the highway, and the images carved on it, from top to bottom, will include the moose, a bear, a deer, two geese, duck, an early Canadian voyageur in a canoe, a topee, a school house, and a church. The eyes of the moose, co-ordinated with traffic signals, will be the only animated portion.

Trying Old Experiment

New Jersey Doctor To Use Surgical Grafting Principle

Sixteen-year-old John Seeley's arm for artificial restoration of the arm he lost last November under the wheels of a train at Nutley, New Jersey, rested to-day on application of a 65-year-old surgical grafting principle.

A Newark orthopedic surgeon, starting with an operation at Beth Israel Hospital, expects to apply the discovery of an Italian physician, Vanghetti, about 1870, using muscle grafts to connect artificial limbs.

The surgeon, who has asked his name be withheld, has been engaged by the crippled children's committee of the Nutley Elks Lodge. As he described the operation, a flap of the patient's skin is drawn into a tube and inserted under the muscle. This operation will be performed twice on each of the stumps of Seeley's arms.

When the tissues have healed, he said, cinchiatric arms would be attached to the stump. The artificial arms and fingers then would be operated with the flexing of the muscles.

New Device Invented

Artificial Ear Gives Effect Of Sound On Human System

An artificial ear, for the exact measurement of sound, and its effect on the human system, has been invented by an electrical firm at Prague. It is to be used by the Czechoslovak Ministry of Health in its investigations into the noise problem. Previous sound-measuring devices are stated either to have been too subjective, which has led to inaccurate results being obtained and difficulty in calculation, or they have not measured the true effect of various sounds on the delicate mechanism of the human ear. The new device, it is claimed, represents exactly, in an easily measurable form, the way in which sound affects the ear of a living person.

Ships Without Funnels

Prediction Made That Smoke Will Be Discharged Into Sea

Funnels even lines in the near future was a prediction made by John Johnson, chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Ltd., addressing the Institution of Mechanical Engineers at London, England, recently.

Speaking on the future of steam propulsion, Mr. Johnson said that smoke and gases from the funnels could be used until they were almost cold, the heat extracted from them being put to use in work.

The gases would then be washed with sea water, and, when clean, they would be discharged into the sea just above the water level.

His Only Worry

The doctors had great difficulty in getting a negro soldier, who had been badly wounded by shell-fire, to take an anaesthetic. He seemed worried about something, and urged them to get to work without an anaesthetic, as he wanted to watch them.

At last they got him to take the chloroform, and all went well until the operation was over.

Ethiopian Reserves Moving Into Defensive Under Haile Selassie

Addis Ababa.—Reserve manpower totalling 30,000 warriors is moving into defensive positions across northern Ethiopia under the personal direction of Emperor Haile Selassie, the government announced.

An official spokesman described as propaganda Italian reports that the emperor is fleeing in disguise or considering abdication.

A direct message from the emperor showed he is safe, the spokesman asserted, adding that the morale of the nation still is high and that it continues to trust in Haile Selassie's leadership.

Ethiopian armies were forced to retreat in the north, he continued, because of a complete lack of defence against aerial and "poison gas attacks" and superior arms of the Italians but, contended the spokesman, the Italians have now handicapped themselves by a hasty extension of their lines with the rains daily becoming heavier.

Difficulties in keeping open communications south of Makale and in the Lake Tana region are expected here to supply the Ethiopians opportunities to exhaust the invaders by harassing their lines.

Geneva.—Italy and Ethiopia bombarded the League of Nations with telegrams insisting they observe international conventions of warfare but accusing each other again of violations.

Italy said she cannot do otherwise than to punish "every inhuman atrocity committed by the adversary, in contempt of every principle of law and morality."

Ethiopia claimed that her armies have conformed to international agreements regulating the conduct of warfare despite flagrant violation by Italy. The message admitted that in isolated cases individuals "may have reacted against the inhuman methods of the Italians." The government added it has taken steps to impose severe punishment for lapses.

A direct message from the emperor to the league protested against what he termed the procrastination of the committee of 13 in starting peace discussions.

London.—The Marquess of Hartington, parliamentary undersecretary for the Dominions, said in the House of Commons that communications were now passing between the government and the governments of the Dominions concerning the possibility of arranging an imperial conference in London at the time of the coronation of King Edward.

His Majesty's coronation will take place in May, 1937.

Security Plan As Proposed By France Is Not Practical

London.—France's all-European security plan received a lukewarm reception in the press. Newspapers generally urged the British government to resume its efforts to bring the powers together for the purpose of devising a European settlement.

The French proposals, said the Daily Telegraph, "in part are wholly impracticable. Recent experience in international complications made it clear that a police force contributed to by all nations is a notion that has only the most remote relation to actual conditions in Europe. The French reply throws back upon the British government the task of exploring the path to negotiation. Until negotiations can be begun the several visions of a pacified Europe are as mocking mirages."

Defence Of India

Field Marshal Cleeve Says It Would Be Madness To Take Risks

London.—In considering the defence of India it would be madness to take risks, declared Field Marshal Sir Philip Cleeve in addressing the East India association. Sir Philip has just completed a five-year term as commander-in-chief of the army in India.

"The Indian frontier," the field marshal said, "is vital, for it is within touch of the Russian menace which advances steadily according to the state of the rest of the world and Russian policies."

"Nobody now imagines the likelihood of war between the British Empire and Russia, but as was seen in the last year, international situations alter rapidly. The Russians have the biggest and possibly the best equipped army and air force in the world."

British War Film

Has Been Temporarily Banned By The Movie Censor

London.—A film depicting the horrors of war was shown privately here after it had been banned for the time being at least by the Marquess of Crewe, movie censor.

Beside actual warfare scenes, the film gives the views on war of the average Englishman, ranging from businessmen to chawmen. It ends by appealing to the public to intervene with their respective parliament members and obtain their pledge always to vote against war.

Suppression of the film caused much criticism. H. G. Wells told newspapermen "it would be outrageous if a film of such public importance were suppressed."

In the face of criticism, Lord Crewe has decided to submit the film to the ministry of war for its approval or rejection.

Further Discussions Likely

Finance Minister Plans Conference With Governments Of West

Ottawa.—Both Finance Minister Dunning and Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia were non-committal after their conversations on financial questions. It was intimated no definite steps would be taken with respect to the problem of Dominion-provincial financial relations until there had been further discussions between the finance minister and governments of the western provinces.

Such conferences will have to await the prorogation of provincial legislatures, Mr. Dunning said, and no definite plans had been made. In the meantime the minister has been in communication with provincial premiers.

Receives Peace Fellowship

Montreal.—John T. Humphrey, recently appointed lecturer on the staff of McGill University's faculty of law, has been awarded a $2,000 fellowship by the Carnegie endowment for international peace. He will study in Paris next year, returning to McGill in September, 1937.

Carried Valuable Cargo

Six Live Beaver Go To Northern Manitoba By Plane

Winnipeg.—As a basis for what he expects will be a very important addition to Manitoba's fur farming industry, Thomas Lamb, Jr., left by aeroplane from Stevenson field for Moose Lake, Manitoba, carrying with him a precious cargo of six specimens of beaver.

The animals arrived in Winnipeg via Canadian National Express from the state conservation board at Albany, New York, and were in splendid condition after their long air journey. On arrival at the air field the animals were taken from the metal crates and securely fastened in bags for their quick journey to a new home northwest of The Pas, near the mouth of the Saskatchewan river.

Mr. Lamb already has gone into muskrat farming extensively and plans to add a beaver section to his fur farm.

Cattle Must Be Treated

Announcement Is Made Of New Ruling On Exports

Ottawa.—Cattle exported from Canada to England, Wales and Scotland between March 15 and June 30 each year must be treated with a preparation which will reduce the hazard of introducing the warble fly, according to an announcement issued here by the department of agriculture.

Canadian cattle for export to the British Isles will be treated by officials of the health department or under official supervision. Treatment will be applied at the time the cattle are tagged at the shipping or export point. A certificate will be issued declaring the cattle have been treated.

Spain Profits By Sanctions

Supplies Canada With Goods Formerly Imported From Italy

Toronto.—League of Nations economic sanctions against Italy have been effective as far as Canada's business with Italy is concerned, a report of the committee on Import and export trade of the Ontario Retail Grocers' Association said.

The report said there had been a cessation of Canadian imports from Italy of olive oil, anchovies, shelled pistachio nuts, shelled almonds, almonds, limes and maraschino cherries.

The sanctions have been of considerable benefit to Spain, which now supplies most of the articles mentioned above.

Family Has No Country

Will Not Be Accepted By Czechoslovakia Or Poland

Prague, Czechoslovakia. A father, mother and their small child huddled together in an old trench in Ceska Pass of the Carpathian mountains, praying for some country to take them in.

"They were ejected by Poland on ground that they are Czechs, but Czechoslovakia refused to receive them, claiming they are Poles."

So the little family, caught in a snowstorm, had to take refuge in the trench in "No Man's Land" along the border. Their borderline home is a remnant of an Austro-Russian battle during the Great War.

AMY JOHNSON MOLLISON

Who smashed the undercarriage of her plane in landing at Colomb-Bechar, Morocco, while attempting to better the flight record between England and South Africa.

Rust Resistant Wheat

Progress Being Made By Scientists Engaged In Work

Winnipeg.—Progress in breeding rust resistant wheat was under discussion here at a meeting of the grain committees of the National Research Council and the Dominion department of agriculture.

Dr. C. H. Goulden, University of Manitoba, told the committee presence of rust in Manitoba last year provided a basis for extensive studies.

Along with the wheat rust study, work of testing wheat varieties to determine resistance to foot rot diseases is being continued, reports to the committee showed.

Dr. J. B. Harrington, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, reported on the effect of frost on wheat seedlings. Frost damage in the seedlings stage resulted in lower yields, he said, even though the crop apparently recovered.

Coronation Date

Will Be Proclaimed In London With Much Ceremony

London.—The date in May, 1937, upon which the coronation of King Edward will take place will be proclaimed next month with much the same ceremony as attended the proclamation of His Majesty upon his accession to the throne last January. Heralds and pursuivants will attend the great officers of the College of Arms, who will make the announcement at the same historic four points in London from which the accession proclamation was delivered. These are St. James' palace, Charing Cross, Temple Bar and the Royal Exchange.

The actual date will probably be announced in the House of Commons by Prime Minister Baldwin on the same day as the Duke of Norfolk, in his capacity as earl marshal, issues the proclamation.

Tenders Resignation

Victoria.—Ill health has caused Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Fordham Johnson to tender to the British Columbia government his resignation which has been accepted by Premier Pattullo. It was announced at Government House. The resignation is to take effect at the end of April, three months before the Lieutenant-Governor's term would normally expire.

WHEN SARRAUT DEFTED HITLER

M. Albert Sarraut, Prime Minister of France, is shown at his desk when he broadcast a speech to the nation following Hitler's remilitarization of the Rhineland. During the broadcast, M. Sarraut stated that France was determined not to overlook Germany's breach of the Locarno Treaty, and rejected with scorn Hitler's offer of a new pact to replace the Locarno Pact.

Britain Obtains Breathing Spell In Rhineland Difficulty

Geneva.—Britain gained ground in recent Locarno talks.

She obtained from both France and Belgium: (1) Acceptance of her view that conciliation with Germany over the Rhineland has not failed, but that the way lies open for a new effort; (2) a breathing space for negotiations to take place. The outcome was regarded in British circles with great satisfaction.

Representatives of Britain, France, Italy and Belgium participated in the talks which established a common viewpoint, Baron Pompeo Aloisi reserving approval on behalf of the Italian government.

The Locarno powers do not meet again until the May meeting of the league council, but to this a significant reservation was made at the instance of Foreign Minister Flaminio, of France. If during the discussions Germany proceeds to fortify the Rhineland zone, then the four powers—Britain, France, Italy and Belgium—will meet at once.

In the interval prior to the May meeting Mr. Eden is to secure from Germany further elucidation of what was meant in the reference to bilateral treaties contained in Chancellor Hitler's memorandum.

The Locarno powers noted Herr Hitler's proposals likewise made no mention of the re-establishment of the confidence indispensable for the negotiation of new treaties. It was decided to submit the French plan to the league and ask the consent of the German government to follow the same course in respect to the German plan.

Recognized by the Locarno powers that conciliation with Germany has not failed is especially important to Britain as affecting the guarantee against unprovoked aggression she has given in a letter addressed to

France and Belgium. This letter, although already sent, only becomes operative when conciliation has failed.

Britain, however, yielded a point on the question of peace in East Africa. Mr. Eden had pressed that the committee of 13 should not rise until some decision was reached between Italy and Ethiopia.

Don Salvador de Madariaga, of Spain, and Joseph Avenol, secretary-general of the league, will be present on behalf of the league, but there was little optimism over the outcome.

The Italians, flushed with victory, are now less inclined to accept anything short of political control of Ethiopia than they were before. Ethiopia is ready to talk but within the framework of the league covenant, which means recognition of Ethiopia's political integrity.

In the background lies an urgent call for the sanctions committee of 18 again to appear on the scene. Sensational rumors fly around that Britain is determined to obtain a final showdown, is ready to impose more and drastic sanctions on Italy, and that if France will not act, Britain will act without her.

The rumors lack anything approaching the remotest official confirmation.

Urgently, the league's committee of 13 has appealed to both Italy and Ethiopia to pledge solemnly not to use poison gas.

The committee, the appeal runs, "Desires to give expression to the emotion felt by public opinion and urgently appeals to the two belligerents to take all necessary steps to prevent any breach of the international conventions of the conduct of warfare and of the principles of international law."

Civil List Completed

Committee Submits Report On Provision For Royal Family

London.—The select committee appointed by the House of Commons to decide the amount of the king's civil list has completed its deliberations and now will report to the house.

A bill will be founded on the report, providing for the needs of the king, Queen Mary, the Duke and Duchess of York, and other members of the royal family. It will also provide for the contingency of the king's marriage.

Figures arrived at by the committee are being kept a close secret.

Using Radio In Elections

Paris.—French political parties have inaugurated a series of nationwide broadcasts—the first in French political history. The elections will be held April 26. Time on the government-controlled radio has been allotted to each of France's numerous parties.

Royal Assent To Legislation Passed Through Both Houses

Ottawa.—Parliament started a 12-day Easter recess after Chief Justice Duff gave royal assent to the accumulated legislation passed through both houses.

In a last-minute spurt, the government bill to establish a national employment commission was rushed through the house and senate, giving the administration free scope during the adjournment to make necessary appointments and start it going.

Left among unfinished business was the government's relief bill, which, among other provisions, would enable the Dominion to sign direct relief agreements with the provinces. The agreements lapsed March 31, the end of the fiscal year, and payments which were increased 15 per cent. for the winter months were cut 15 per cent. in April. In the meantime, it is assumed payments will continue from month to month until new agreements are negotiated but the rates have not been disclosed.

A supply bill of $31,167,000, representing the supplementary estimates for the year ending in March, went through both houses.

The most important of the bills receiving royal assent was the one ratifying the Canadian-American trade treaty.

Premier King told the house practically all important legislation has been presented to the house but he was unable to say definitely when the budget will come down. It has been forecast for the first week in May.

The house has been in session slightly more than two months and it probably will last into June, depending largely on the budget and the attitude of the opposition toward the government bill restoring a board of directors for the Canadian National Railways.

Another bill that received royal assent was one to distribute $6,550,000 among the provinces as a result of 1930 pool operations, both wheat and coarse grains. It looked earlier in the day as if it would not be included on the assent list but the house accepted senate amendments and all was serene. Distribution of the money now is only a matter of time.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

"THE FLOWERS that bloom in the spring, Tra-la, Bring promise of merry sunshine."

These words and lilting tunes are recalled from Gilbert & Sullivan's "Mikado." The grass turns green, the streams begin to rise, robins and bluebirds return, all nature puts on a new garb. Starved horses that have pitifully roamed the townside during the winter now return to the grass-clad hills, where, if they have thoughts at all, they will ruminate on the cruelty of owners who do not care if they live or starve. They too will welcome spring. It brings life and vigor, molasses and treacle, marbles and hop-scotch; automobile licence renewals and more dust on the highways. Nature in her changing moods is indeed wonderful, and in the mountains the changing seasons are far more beautiful in effect than the bald-headed prairie. Dwellers in mountain towns have many advantages over the plains dwellers.

TALKING of Spring, reminds one of the judge who was sentencing a murderer. He extolled to him all the joys of Spring, how all nature would re-awaken, the little birds would be singing in the trees, the ice would float out of the streams and rivers, the grass would turn green and the leaves on the trees bud out in all their pristine freshness after a long dark winter. "Everything and everyone will be rejoicing," remarked the judge. "But you, you son of a gun, you won't be in it."

A MAN who is a friend of none is very apt to find in critical times a need of those friends, whose absence he would then realize.—Hon. Stanley Baldwin.

GARDENING will be the healthy hobby of quite a number, now that the warmer days are here. The suggestion has been made that the school grounds be beautified by tree and shrub planting. Cameron school surroundings look particularly bare, but could be made attractive by planting and cultivation. It would be a fine asset to improve the bleak appearance of the grounds there, and would increase pride in the hearts of teachers, children and the older folks living in proximity to the school. Cultivation and lots of water would work a transformation in a very few years.

WHETHER THEY want to or not, Alberta teachers must now pay membership fees to the Alberta Teachers Alliance. School boards are bound under the amendment passed by the legislature to deduct from $5 to $10 per year, according to the amount of salary, from the teachers' pay cheques, and substitute teachers must pay for a month or fraction thereof 50c. Teachers, as in trades and professions, need a union to protect their interests, but compulsory membership instigated by the secretary of the Alliance in collaboration with the minister of education is against the principles of democratic government.

THE darkest hour in any man's life is when he sits down to plan how to get money without earning it.—Horace Greely.

LETHBRIDGE is already complaining of the dust nuisance. Calgary also experiences similar discomfort. Dust storms have increased in intensity in recent years, caused by loose soil being blown from farms. It shows that man upsets the balance of Nature. Much of the Western land would have been better left untilled, or if it had to be ploughed, steps taken to prevent soil erosion which has a devastating effect. As ranch land this does not take place, but in land where trees find difficulty in taking hold, moisture conservation is almost impossible.

EVEN here in the mountains, we have an occasional dust storm but most of it comes from the gravelled highway. There is too much rock and tree stumps to give the dust the freedom it has on the prairie farms. The land up here is not torn up by the plough. The wealth here is produced from hundreds of feet below the surface, instead of from the top few inches. There are advantages to be enjoyed in living in the mountains, such as pure water, beautiful scenery, healthful outdoor recreation in summer and winter, trout fishing, if you have plenty of patience, and above all, cool, restful nights. The most necessary improvement that can be suggested is to surface the rest of the roads in town and keep down the dust. It costs money but so does everything worth enjoying the benefit of. But money is only a token, says the Premier, so why not spend lots of it.

"LOOK at 'em! Just look at 'em!" said the bus driver, training his whip toward the crowd gathered round the bishop, preaching from the open air pulpit at St. James, Piccadilly. "There's something 'uman about 'im, I've 'eard 'im down East many a time, and I tell you, when you 'ave been a-listening to 'im for a bit, a kind of clean feeling takes 'old on you, same's if it was your day off and you'd 'ad a bath and got your Sunday suit on."—A. G. Gardiner.

The Churches

UNITED CHURCH

There was a large attendance at the morning service at St. Paul's United church. The Junior choir rendered two selections and Rev. Roy Taylor, B. D., preached an appropriate sermon. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered.

The evening service was very well attended and Easter Hymns and an Easter message by the minister featured the service.

On Sunday next, April 19, Rev. J. A. Hockin, B. A., B. D., of Stavely, will be the preacher at both services. A full attendance of members, adherents, and friends is requested.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATINGE

SYNOPSIS

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

The meeting terminates, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, Link and Kilgo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, ruin his "spread". Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but Buster Townsend, Link's foreman, is unharmed. Buzz is arrested and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own property.

Fleming goes home and studies the plans drawn by Torney to learn whether they could be adapted to a smaller scheme suitable for his and Helen's land, and he is satisfied it could be done. Feeling cold, he lights the fire and there is an explosion that wrecks the house, burns it and the plans and renders Link unconscious. He is rescued from the blaze by an employee.

Helen and Link ride to Rawhide for supplies and to obtain funds to carry out the dam project. They meet Roper, who greets Helen and offers to show with her. Link goes to see the Sheriff, who tells him Buzz is in the bank getting a loan for payment of wages for work on the dam. Roper Kilgo and Jackpot Mel meet him and he goes into the saloon with them. By the time his sister and Link come from the bank, Buzz has had several drinks. Roper has distorted the facts concerning the dam proposal to Buzz, making it appear that Link was trying to ruin him. Buzz, inflamed with liquor and anger, tries to throttle Fleming, but is thrown to the floor. Then Helen appears and tells Fleming she has been robbed of the $800 they had obtained from the bank.

(Now Go On With The Story)

"Link," she added on sudden impulse, "do you think this dam is going to bankrupt us?"

Something in her worried tone made Fleming eager to go to any extreme to safeguard Helen and her property. "We'll come through," he said with confidence he did not quite feel. "We still have our steers to sell, and once we get cash for 'em the far distant peaks of the mountain range. But Fleming, with a look of cheerful confidence, strode to the ranch house stoop, the men following mullishly at his heels. On this slight eminence he turned to address them.

"O'Jiles and Kevin told me how you feel, and I don't blame you, boys. But don't think I'm not in good faith about this wages proposition. I went—"

"To hell with good faith!" broke in Gyp Valie. "Give us hard cash!"

Piously he was foremost in stirring up discussion. Buster Townsend's fists doubled and he seemed about to challenge Gyp until with a slight shake of the head Link warned him. "What the heck're you talkin' about? You don't work on this dam any more. I fired you this mornin' for a lazy, good-for-nothin' loafer!"

The man's powerful chest heaved. "I'm owed wages!" he roared. "An' by gosh, I mean to get my rights!"

"You owed a good deal in the nose," Buster retorted belligerently. "Yuh tried to bust a sluice gate on us, yuh hound! Lettin' it drop 20 feet. I've a good mind to—"

"Hold on, boys!" It came news that Valie had been discharged, that he had attempted sabotage. But Fleming disregarded this point for the moment. "I started to say," he proceeded calmly, "that Miss Hamilton and I went to Rawhide this afternoon to get your payroll."

"But didn't get it," guessed a man named Ferguson.

"We got it, all right—eight hundred dollars. But I had to stay in town to meet Buzz Hamilton. You see, I got Buzz paroled to me from prison as a surprise for his sister. I gave her the money and she used it here as fast as her horse could travel."

"Boys," he said soberly, "I'm shore sorry. Helen—Miss Hamilton—got held up. Some dirty skunk wearin' a bandana mask, stepped out of the trees at Iron Spring, and stopped her at the point of a gun. She put up a game fight but of course he was stronger. He grabbed your eight hundred and got away!"

"Held up?"

"She got robbed!"

"Then our money's gone?"

"That's all, and similar exclamations broke from the crowd of irrigation dam workers. Instantly Link perceived that by phrasing it as their eight hundred dollars, he had scored a yes.

"Yes, she got robbed and pretty much bruisin' up fightin' for her rights. Sheriff Stephen is trailin' the cuss right now, and there's a damned good chance of nabbin' him fast. He'll sure get the limit for holdin' up a woman an' taking money earned by the sweat of your brow!"

An inspiration prompted him to stride down to Sam Walters. "Sam, I'll pay every cent I owe you if you give me time. Nobody ever said Link Fleming went back on his word. On account of that robbery I'm askin' you to trust me awhile longer."

Plainly taken back by this daring candor, Sam gnawed reflectively at a mustache end. "Yuh liable to go bust?"

"Whoever spread that story lied!" the workmen hesitated, conscious of all eyes on him. Then he saw Fleming's hand outstretched, and he grasped it. "Pay me up, Link, soon's you can. I'll wait."

His pulse speeded in triumph. Without turning from the spot, he addressed the crowd. "As you willing to trust me after a piece of hard luck I couldn't help?"

The other's eyes wavered. "Shore, Link," and he turned away.

But Gyp Valie with Ferguson at his side interceded before Fleming could speak to the next man. "Yuh can pull that on those guys," Gyp sneered roughly, "but yuh can't soft soap me. I want my money an' I want it now!"

Townsend shouldered his way close, feeling trouble. "Buster," he demanded the Star Loop owner aggressively, "are you sure about this money tryin' to wreck that sluice gate?"

"Plumb shore!" came the prompt answer. "Yuh dirty low-down Gila!"

Wanted To Play Safe

Man Withdrew Charge Against Son Of His Barber

Herman Gerosky, a New York factory owner, does not believe in taking risks. He had hired Joseph Sannone arrested on a charge of theft from the factory he decided, when the case came into court, not to proceed with the charge. The magistrate asked him to explain. "Well," said Mr. Gerosky, "Joseph's father is my barber. Twice a week I sit in his chair and my throat is at his mercy. Nevertheless the magistrate decided to hold Joseph on a charge of theft."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Hereditary poisons go into the body and you feel weak, sick and the world looks ugly.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get rid of it. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to eat those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Bile makes you healthy, it makes the bile flow freely. They do the work of a natural bile, have no alcohol or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Bile-builders refuse anything else. See

Interesting Mosaic Frieze

Shows How Cows Were Milked in Olden Times

Among the many interesting relics which have been unearthed during the excavations of Ur of the Chaldees, the birthplace of Abraham, is a mosaic frieze showing a procession of cows. On one side of a reddish-brown tile, from the door of which two calves are seen issuing, men seated on low stools are milking cows. The men sit under the cow's tail, milking the animal from behind. The calves, duly muzzled, are roped to the cow's headstall so as to encourage him to give milk. On the other side of the frieze, two men clean shaven and wearing knee-length tunics, the official dress of priests, are pouring milk through a strainer into a vessel set on the ground, while two others are collecting the strained liquid into great stone jars.

This frieze is said by experts to represent a scene at a farm attached to a temple, a farm dating about 3100 B.C. employing dairy methods which might have been employed with profit in the intervening centuries.

Another find of interest to students of agriculture was a small statue representing the Goddess Bau, seated on a throne supported by geese. Bau was the patroness of the poultry farm, and her figure, square and thick-set, in a founced and pleated dress reaching to the ankles, has an appropriately domestic look.

Trusted Him For Fine

A man fined at Deal, England, had only $1.50 in cash, and as this was insufficient for his fare home to Sydenham the magistrate advanced him the money for the fare and gave him a week to pay the fine. The man was A. Lake, aged 24.

Most electric fishes have rather weak batteries to keep off their enemies, but the torpedo fish and the electric eel are powerfully destructive.

The origin of Cambridge University in England is obscure. It probably grew out of a local educational movement during the twelfth century.

Canada's Sea Tonnage

Is Now Only One Third Of Fifty Years Ago

Canada's tonnage in seagoing vessels was only one-third of what it was 50 years ago. Fred Bridges, port warden at Sorel, Que., told the Ottawa branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada. Total tonnage of seagoing and inland water vessels dropped from three per cent of the world total in 1886 to 1 1/2 per cent in 1935. In comparison, Japan's tonnage has increased from one-half per cent, 50 years ago to six per cent. Change from sail to steam, he believed, was the cause of tonnage decline in Canada.

Gold In New Guinea

Will Provide Mining For At Least Twenty Years

New Guinea has sufficient gold to provide mining for 20 years, according to Sir George Pearce, Australian Minister in Control of Territories. In a report to the Commonwealth Prime Minister on his return to Canberra after a visit to Papua and New Guinea. "The fields will be one of our principal producing centres for many years," he said.

Shows Improvement

Considerable improvement has been effected in Canada in the preparation of fleece wool since 1913 when public attention was first directed to the manner of preparation for market. At present all commercial wool in Canada is sold in the grease, and the fleeces rolled and tied intact as they are shorn.
